LEGAL NOTICE

This legal note is to make sure that you understand the rules and regulations of the sessions organised by the European Youth Parliament Croatia. The European Youth Parliament does its best to provide high standard sessions. Interesting guest speakers are invited to the session, the resolutions are being sent to the European institutions and governmental bodies, and the session topics are selected with great care. It therefore goes without saying that the participants of European Youth Parliament sessions are expected to behave adequately to the high standard programme of the session, not to overindulge in alcohol, not to consume any drugs during the session, to strictly follow the orders of the session organisers, to take part in all the activities of the session programme and not to leave the session venues without explicit approval of the session organisers.

Please be aware that the participant will be CHARGED for ANY DAMAGE they cause. This first of all concerns the hostel rooms where delegates are accommodated.

As young ambassadors of their countries, participants of the session are expected to understand that we would not wish their stay in the hosting country to be upset by their own misbehaviour or that of others. Participants are expected to take active participation in all events of the programme. Therefore, EYP Croatia highly discourages the participants of its session from consuming alcohol during the session.

Should the session participants decide to consume alcohol in their free time they should remember the national legal requirements. EYP frowns upon overindulgence. Generally, any OVERINDULGENCE in alcohol will result in participants being excluded from the session and SENT HOME at their own expense. European Youth Parliament operates a total ZERO TOLERANCE POLICY TOWARDS DRUGS. The participant has to fully comply with the law of a hosting country. Any violation of these rules leads to the immediate exclusion of the participant from the session at the own costs of the participant.
